More Volunteers Needed For Defense Services

Can you serve as an Auxiliary Fireman, a Nurse's Aid or a volunteer with the Air Craft Warning Service? Have you a station wagon? Can you type or do secretarial work? Have you had any experience leading children's groups? Are you experienced in First Aid?

Despite the whole-hearted turnout of citizens for defense work in Lower Merion Township there are still many fields open for cooperation according to an announcement made Wednesday from Council of Defense Headquarters at the Township Building. These services in particular have yet to complete their quotas and offer many interesting possibilities to volunteer workers.

According to Fire Marshal Frank J. Pollack, there are now about 105 men in training with the Auxiliary Firemen, but at least 200 in all are needed to round out the quota to the satisfaction of the Fire Department, particularly for the Ardmore and Gladwyne districts.

The Auxiliary forces are to be furnished with special uniforms now on order by the Township Commission. These will include coveralls, rubberized gloves and firemen combat helmets.

Training undergraduates of State schools held in the Township is being offered evenings at the various fire houses and the men are being drilled in fire-fighting and the use of the excellent equipment now on hand at headquarters and on order for use in defense measures.

Women particularly are needed for the Air Craft Warning Service in the Philadelphia area. They will be called upon for four hours service every other day and for nothing more. Work includes not only the spotting of enemy planes, but the charting of all aircraft maneuvers in the area.

Trained women are also in demand for the Nurses Aid work to relieve hospital attendants with their widely increased duties.

According to Major Samuel W. Gearhart, Superintendent of Police, the Emergency Station Wagon Corps has a membership of about 70 members now with an ultimate aim of 100. Insignias adopted by the Police Department and approved by the American Red Cross have been issued to 46 station wagons under the direction of Sergeant J. Joseph Mawhinney at Police Headquarters.

Registration for service with these groups and for other volunteer duties with other organizations and at headquarters may be made at the Council of Defense offices from 9 to 5 on weekdays and from 9 to 3 on Saturdays.

L. M. Rolls Blithely Along But Worry Has Andy Down

For a chap who has the only undefeated basketball team in the entire Philadelphia district, Bill Anderson, Lower Merion High School's famous coach, is far from a contented or happy individual.

Mr. Anderson has the worries. His team has won 14 straight games this season, six in a row in the Suburban Section One League and a total of 23 straight since Allentown halted the Maroon in the latter part of the 1940-41 campaign. Yet Mr. Anderson is far from being elated. He's much too concerned with what might happen in the future to enjoy the present.

He's worried because he was unable to fill the open date on the schedule on Tuesday, fearing that the idleness may throw his team completely off stride. And he's frantic over the fact that there is another open date next Tuesday. But he's jittery most of all over the game with Upper Darby Friday a week.

So far, this game with L. M.'s closest rival is scheduled for the Upper Darby Junior High court which can accommodate only about 800 spectators. This means that the spectators able to squeeze their way inside will be overflowing all over the place, and the Lower Merion mentor believes this might keep his boys from playing their accustomed game. "And it's not fair to our fans," he says. "The game should be played where everyone has a chance to see it."

As a result of Anderson's persistence, the game may be moved to the Palestra or Villanova. However, no official announcement has been made to this effect. And until it's made Mr. Anderson will keep right on worrying.

Mr. Anderson believes his boys might win from Abington's last place team here Friday night, but he says you never can tell. That a streak is very hard on a team. That it's difficult to play against a team with Abington's aggressive style of play, etc. Worry! Worry! Worry!

However, the Lower Merion players aren't doing any worrying. They are letting their illustrious coach do the brain work, while they do the practical job of winning ball games. And Norristown High can attest that there's nothing wrong with their technique.

The Maroon polished off the Eagles as handily as anyone else last Friday at Norristown. The L. M. boys ran up a 17-9 lead in the first half and were never pressed. The Eagles were limited to five field goals while Greer Heindel collected the same number to pace L. M. with 10 points.

Evening Meeting Of Penn Valley Club

The Penn Valley Garden Club will meet on Monday at 8:30 P. M. in All Saints Church, Wynnewood, when Paul Rump will speak and show slides of "Unusual Scenes of California, the Desert and the Southwest." Members and guests are invited. The club's executive board met at the home of Mrs. F. J. C. Stark, Pembroke rd., Penn Valley, on Wednesday afternoon.

Rally to Open Red Cross Drive Special War Fund Campaign Starts February 13

The Fifty Million Dollar American Red Cross Drive will open in the Philadelphia area on February 13. Philadelphia's share of the quota is two and one half millions, a great portion of this is to be shared by the Main Line area.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Edward W. Shober, War Fund Offices for Main Line Branch No. 1 have been set up in the Raymond P. Scott, Dodge and Plymouth Company Building, 213 E. Lancaster av., Ardmore.

A War Fund Rally opening the Main Line's participation in the drive will be held in the Lower Merion Senior High School Auditorium February 10 at 8 p. m.

It will be the purpose of the rally to bring a first hand account of the needs of our nation to the people of the Main Line.

Admission will be free.

Already two very interesting speakers have signified their willingness to support this program. They are John D. M. Hamilton, former National Chairman of the Republican Party and recently a new resident of the Main Line, and Angelo Monzo, wounded Pearl Harbor veteran, who will tell his experiences at Pearl Harbor when the Japanese struck the blow that brought this nation into the war. Monzo was serving as a sailor in the United States Navy. He recently returned to his home in Philadelphia on leave because of the wound he received in the fighting at our Pacific naval base.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

TO THE EDITOR; OUR TOWN Narberth, Pa.

Dear Sir:

I want to express my sincere appreciation for the wonderful cooperation of the Air Raid Wardens (Post and Sector) during the Blackout on Tuesday evening. It was 100% effective.

In touring the Borough with Mr. James McCaffrey, Deputy Air Raid Warden, we found in all sectors visited that the men were really on the job and took their work seriously. There were no delinquencies.

I also want to thank the inhabitants of Narberth for their cooperation in making this test a perfect one.

Respectfully yours, Joseph L. Kelley Chief Air Raid Warden

Narberth Family "Adopt" Refugee

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Kerns, 311 Woodside av., Narberth, have "adopted" Primitiva Emilia Rojas Mendizabal, 13-year-old Spanish girl, through the Foster Parents' Plan for War Children. It was announced this week. The child is now living at one of the Plan's Colonies in England.

Son Is Born

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Merkle, 523 Wynnewood av., Narberth, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, Charles Walton Merkle, at the Osteopathic Hospital on February 2.

PLAYERS' FIFTIETH PRODUCTION WINS WARM APPROVAL OF CRITIC

The fiftieth production of the Narberth Players on January 30th and 31st at Elm Hall in Narberth was "Ladies In Retirement" by Edward Percy and Reginald Denham. As their silver effort it deserved a gold star.

An unusually fine set won the approval of the audience at the rise of the curtain, but more than that, it created the proper atmosphere for a play that depends so much upon the intangible impressions demanded for a thorough appreciation of the story. The costumes complemented the scene.

In a drama of this sort the temptation is strong to give particular approval to the character parts of the two Creed sisters (witness the response to "Mr. Deeds Goes To Town"). No deduction of their merit results from the fact that this play is one in which the total effect is of first consideration. With the exception of a weak, theatrical ending (the fault of the authors and not of the actors) "Ladies In Retirement" is good drama. The seven members of the cast worked well and smoothly together to secure this total effect.

Aside: The Narberth Players must, however, give a little more attention to dramatic climaxes of story and scene. That means stage crew as well as actors and directors. The audience did not always feel the impact of a final speech or moment. May we also add a suggestion to the actors that they distinguish between theatrical and dramatic?

David Kornhauser played exceedingly well the lone male part and fortunately did not over-act his role, which would have caused it to descend to travesty. This keeping in bounds was also the merit of Gretchen Little and Ethel M. Williams, who gave excellent performances of their roles of two contrasting studies in feeble-mindedness. Marjorie Topliss Flynn had the difficult portrayal of a character dominated by a worthy purpose, but achieving it by unworthy means. The highest compliment that can be paid her is the fact that the audience felt sympathetic toward her purpose even after the murder.

Madeline Bittman, skilled in the effects of innuendo, successfully gave the audience the overtones of her character and carried her influence through the last two acts as well as the first in which she appeared.

Nancy Hughes lacked a little of the coquettish quality inherent in Lucy, but her restraint served the good purpose of saving the part from being silly. She is the tool of Albert, to be sure, but not his dupe.

First honors go to Betty Lynch for directing the play with intelligent attention to details and for the final impression of the drama as a whole.

Jefferies Gets Navy Commission Says He Will Not Resign from Township Board at Present

John H. Jefferies, Jr., president of the Lower Merion Township Board of Commissioners, has been commissioned as lieutenant, senior grade, in the Morale Division of the U. S. Navy and expects to report for active duty by the middle of next week.

Jefferies' intention to serve his country in the armed forces wasn't generally known until he announced his resignation as coach of basketball at Episcopal Academy on Saturday. He has been spending the last few days clearing up his extensive insurance business. For the present he doesn't contemplate resigning from the board of commissioners.

"I asked Commander Warren, under whom I'll serve, what I should do about the commissioners' job and he said, 'He didn't think it would be a good idea to resign,'" explained Jefferies yesterday. Commander Warren is still a magistrate in the township.

"My resignation came through Tuesday morning awaiting orders. I am to be called by the middle of next week at the latest."

Jefferies, who represents the General Wayne district, is the second of the 13 Lower Merion commissioners to answer the country's call. Samuel E. Ewing, Jr., of Bryn Mawr, entered the Army last year. Jefferies served two months with the Army in World War I.

In addition to being one of the township's leaders in municipal affairs, Jefferies has long been outstanding in the Main Line sports world. A graduate of Princeton, class of 1923, where he was captain of the baseball and basketball teams, Jack, as he is known to all his friends, played baseball with Narberth in the Main Line League as early as 1916. And he's been connected with the club on and off as player, coach and assistant manager ever since.

A resident of Arlington rd., Penn Valley, Jefferies coached the Princeton varsity baseball and basketball teams for three years. In 1936 he became head basketball coach at Episcopal Academy where he turned out many strong teams in the Interacademic League.

Secrets of Rockefeller Center's behind-the-scenes life will be revealed in an illustrated lecture by Miss Caroline Hood, of the Center, at a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Narberth Public School on Friday, February 13, at 2 p. m. in the School.

Mrs. G. S. Wilson Died On Sunday

She is survived by her father, George Rommel; two sons, G. Searing, Jr., and Rommel, and a daughter, Gertrude.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 10:20 Chestnut st., Philadelphia.

Blackout Was Well Organized

Lower Merion Showed Good Coordination In War-Time Test

Lower Merion Township scored nearly 100 per cent in its participation in the first blackout in the history of this section, Tuesday night.

From the highest point in the township, the top of the Times Building, Ardmore, Mrs. J. Weir Sargent, deputy Air Raid Warden, reported but one light visible, apparently on Montgomery av., far to the west, perhaps not even in Lower Merion.

In cars, stores, homes, signs, lights went off like magic on the dot of 10:29 and a half. Only one blaze of light remained another 30 seconds—the trolley station in Ardmore, whose lights are controlled by a central switch in Llanerch. At 10:30 all was dark.

At the Bryn Mawr Hospital, everything worked in perfect order. No lights showed, the Red Cross station wagon corps and members of the motor corps were on hand to cope with potential emergencies, as they were at strategic points all over the township; all nurses and internes were on the alert. No emergencies were reported during the 15-minute test.

Although all its outside lights were turned off, the Autocar Company did not black out its plant, because, as a Defense plant, it is under orders not to interrupt production for a practice blackout.

Police, auxiliary police, and members of all branches of the Civilian Defense Organization, were at their posts throughout the township.

Only one casualty was reported—the theft of tires from the car of Mrs. Margaret Driscoll, Wynnewood Park Apartments, Wynnewood.

PTA to Hold Bake Sale

The Narberth Parent Teachers' Association will hold a Bake Sale at the Sun Cleaners, Haverford av., on Saturday morning, February 14, beginning at 9.

The sale is a project of the Finance-Budget Committee of which Mrs. A. G. Cederstrom is chairman. Mrs. George A. Purring is in charge of the arrangements.

Certificates for the purchase of 22 new tires have been given out during January, 1942 by the Rationing Board of Area No. 3, Montgomery County, covering Ardmore and Narberth, according to an announcement made Wednesday by the Rationing Board.

While it has been reported in newspapers and over the radio that second-hand tires and retreaded tires are to be rationed in the near future, up to February 3 the local Board had not yet received official notification to this effect or instructions.

No official notification or instructions had been received concerning car rationing.

Announcement will be made through the press if such notification and instructions are received. L. B. Fraher is chairman of the Rationing Board, assisted by E. A. Pitts and J. R. Hall, with headquarters at the Township Council of Defense office.

Those who received certificates for the purchase of tires during January, were: Dr. Robert A. Groff, Narberth; Dr. Richardson Lau, Overbrook Hills; Harold C. King, Ardmore; Dr. Edward F. Burk, Wynnewood; Dr. Alfred E. Tronclitti; Dr. Clayton Undercoffer, Ardmore; Maurice J. Lacey, Narberth; Dr. E. P. Longaker, Ardmore; McLaren Construction Co., Ardmore; Lt. Arthur H. Adams, Narberth; Narberth Electric & Radio Co., Narberth; Curtis-Dixon Electrical App. Service, Ardmore; Dr. Elsie Curtis, Ardmore; Dr. George P. Yocum, Ardmore.

Volunteer Medical Corps Nets $300 in Boro Movie Benefit

The Volunteer Medical Service Corps of Narberth gave a movie benefit last Friday and Saturday nights at the Narberth Theatre, when Defense Saving Bonds were given as prizes.

On Friday, the $25 bond was donated by the Corps and won by Miss Jessie Sturm, 224 Iona av., Narberth, and on Saturday, the bond, donated by four Narberth merchants—Frank Boldi, Paulini's Market, Guiliani's Cafe and Frank Philipponi, was won by Dr. E. V. Wright, 310 Chestnut av., Narberth.

The bonds were presented to the winners by Thomas W. Merkle, who announced that the benefit was a great success, netting over $300 which will be used for equipment needed by the Council of Defense and first aid for residents of the Borough.

Members of the Volunteer Corps, dressed in their new uniforms, served as ushers at the theatre on the two benefit evenings.

Brookline Shatters Narberth's Streak Creates Three-Way Tie For Loop Lead

Packs Punch

Brookline strode back into the Main Line Basketball League pennant picture Monday night when it staged a stirring second half rally to upset Narberth's pace-setting team, 43-31, in the opening game of a doubleheader at Haverford High School.

The victory for the defending champions ended a five game Narberth winning streak and threw the race into a three way tie for first place. Narberth shares the lead with Upper Darby and Yeadon while Brookline and Wayne are tied for fourth place, just a game off the pace.

Thus, plenty of excitement is promised next Monday in two local twilights. Brookline will seek revenge for the previous defeats at the hands of Yeadon and Upper Darby last week. At the same time Narberth and Earlington Men's Club renew their feud and Clifford Heights will tangle with Berwyn of Lower Merion Senior High School.

Brookline's victory over Narberth was quite a surprise inasmuch as the borough passers had twice trounced the champs and the latter had been beaten by Wayne in an extra period thriller, 40-37, only last Thursday.

Against Wayne the Brooks wiped out a seven point deficit in the last quarter only to see Iue Penman, Wayne center, tie up the game at 33-all on a foul toss in the last 30 seconds. Then Reds Calverse won the decision for the Raiders with two goals late in the overtime period.

Brookline didn't wait as long to get started against Narberth. Trailing by seven points at halftime, the Brooks ran the boroughites in to the floor with a whirlwind of ensive that netted 29 points. Narberth was so baffled by this fast-break attack that it could only get two field goals the entire second half. The Brooks lost Captain Kenney Jackson, lanky Bob Lloyd and John Herring on personals in the last half but the game was sewed up by the time they departed.

Herring, the former New York schoolboy who now resides in Llanerch, was the spearhead of the attack, netting eight field goals and three foul goals for 19 points. This boosted his season's total to 140 points and gave him the league leadership in individual scoring.

Upper Darby moved into the triple deadlock for the lead by crushing Wayne, 54-41, in the windup of the Haverford bill. Bob Sulter led the way with 19 points.

Yeadon came out of its slump to defeat Berwyn, 40-39, last Thursday and crush Earlington Men's Club, 36-23, at Yeadon Monday. It was the seventh straight setback for the Earlington passers.

team was smashed by Narberth in a rough, torrid battle that wound up in a 58-53 score last Thursday at Lower Merion. Trailing 24-23 at halftime, Narberth sewed up the contest with a 23-point spurge in the third period. Lanky Bob Crowell paced the boroughites with 17 points. Clarence Griffiths, slim Narberth forward, received a painful injury during a rough scrimmage and will be on the sidelines for several games. His absence was felt keenly against Brookline.

CALLING THE TURN

by L. M. FORD

Charles E. Harnden, tall, balding Narberth resident who has devoted almost every bit of his spare time for the last 17 years to the development of independent sports on the Main Line, isn't too proud of his Main Line Basketball League at the moment.

Head man of that enterprising loop for the past seven years, Harnden is tickled that his pre-season prediction of the "deepest race in years" has come true, but he isn't pleased by what that keen fight has done to the calibre of play in the circuit.

"Too much roughhouse," was his biting observation yesterday. "The boys are trying to make a boxing match out of the game. Temper just won't stay put. In the last two weeks we've had at least an average of one fight a game among the players. And the referees have been taking a pretty tough abuse for the good of the game. It has not to stop."

Many of the respective teams have been given an official order to cut out the "fancy business" and get down to basketball. Harnden notified them that the league rule calling for fines or suspensions or both for fouls and other acts of un-sportsmanlike conduct would be upheld to the letter from now on.

CHARLES E. HARNDEN

"Several teams are rather shy on reserves but I won't let this influence me if I believe a suspension of one or two players would be the proper punishment," warned Harnden. "It's up to the managers to keep their team under control. It shouldn't be necessary to point out that in such a close race the loss of one player even for just one game might mean the loss of first place, or a spot in the playoffs."

Players Injured

Harnden's was assuaged by reports he received from his aides and Dick Mattis, commissioner of officials, on last week's Narberth-Clifton game at Lower Merion Senior High School. The game was the roughest of the year. Clarence Griffith, slim Narberth forward, took such a physical beating that he hasn't been able to play since. For a time it was feared one of the other players had a couple broken ribs. The referee called foul upon foul in an effort to bring the teams to their senses yet it only brought down on his head the worst abuse any whistle-blower has had to take all year.

The Upper Darby-Wayne game Monday night wasn't too much older before the Pennam, Wayne center, and Ben M. Wayne, Up-Dah guard, were tossed out of the game for trading punches. There were several other skirmishes of minor nature, but which worked up the followers of the teams to such a pitch that an appeal had to be made from the floor to keep the fans in their seats.

"In some cases I believe the referees have been too lenient and have permitted the game to get out of control," explained Harnden. "But generally they have handled a tough job very well. The managers and players in the future must exercise control. All our referees are gentlemen of the highest type. They must be respected. We're fortunate to have them working for us. If they handle the games with a firm hand, the league will back them up to the limit. I think a little violence on the part of all of us will stamp out the rowdism and yet maintain hard played but clean basketball and good sportsmanship."

"Frankly, I appreciate the situation of the players and managers. They're all on edge because every game, even every point means so much in such a close race. But basketball will decide the outcome not fists. Yet, it's a great race, isn't it?" concluded the lanky prey with a chuckle. "That's competition with a capital C. And there's still a month to go!"

Fords 6th in Bowling

Haverford High finished sixth in the first Philadelphia district scholastic bowling tournament conducted last week. The Fords rolled 2425.

North Catholic won the title from the 45 team field with a score of 2541. Bob Bailey and G.J. Gibbon, who played on Lower Merion's state championship basketball team last year, are so much the works at Episcopal Academy that Haverford School fans chanted "Beat Lower Merion!" during their Interac League basketball game with the Churchmen last week. Gene Davis, Jr., 1941 Penn football captain, was among the spectators at Monday's Main Line League doubleheader at Haverford High.

Bill and Bobby Hackett don't mind tough assignments. The two former Lower Merion athletes have enlisted for training with a U. S. Army parachute troop unit. Bill started in football at Malvern Prep last Fall. Bob is the leading scorer on the Brown Prep quintet.

Private Dick Morris, formerly of Brookline's court champs, writes from the Savannah Air Base, Savannah, Ga., "Brother, they really work you in this league. By the time the playoffs come around I'll really be in shape."

With Jack Jefferies being given a commission in the Navy, John Brinton has been called out of retirement to coach Episcopal's basketball team. Brinton turned out some of Episcopal's strongest teams about 15 years ago. He retired as coach in 1932, has been athletic director ever since. Although Tad Wehman, of Narberth, and Jim Heller scored 27 points between them, Haverford School lost to Brooklyn Poly Prep, 45-36, last Saturday at Haverford. After scoring 61 points in his first five games, Chuck Viguers was held to a measly five as Syracuse defeated Penn, 43-27, Saturday. Believe it or not, Penn led at halftime, 16-9. Penn also dropped a 40-34 decision to Army at West Point Wednesday.

Hazleton High wiped out a 20-9 halftime deficit and defeated Allentown, 28-26, in an extra period game for the first half title in the East Penn League at Convention Hall last Friday. During their victory celebration, Mountaineer fans were heard to exclaim: "Now if we can only get a crack at Lower Merion in the state tournament!" Second the motion!

972 Active in Air Warden Service

Chief Warden Harral Reports Organization in Good Order

Nine hundred and seventy-two members are now on active duty with the Air Raid Warden Service of Lower Merion Township and splendid cooperation in all branches is being rendered according to a report of the Service submitted Tuesday night at a meeting of the Lower Merion Township Council of Defense by H. D. Harral, Chief Air Raid Warden.

Prior to December 7, 1941, Mr. Harral pointed out, the staff consisted of chief warden, a deputy warden and a warden's adviser. Spurred by the impetus of the declaration of war, the organization has increased steadily so that it now numbers five members of chief and staff, 16 headquarters wardens and 951 sector and post wardens.

Instruction except for First Aid is approximately 90 per cent complete, he reported. Two hundred and forty-three persons have completed First Aid instruction or have been placed in standard Red Cross 20-hour classes. Wardens' manuals have been delivered to each warden and pertinent information has been passed on to wardens through organization channels.

Coverage obtained in the distribution of a sheet of Air Raid Instructions for Lower Merion citizens prepared by the Warden Service and another on Blackout Regulations is believed to be practically 100 per cent complete. A statement on the control of incendiary bombs in households is in the course of preparation, he added.

The census of Lower Merion's people on a post and sector basis including the number in each household, the very young children, the invalid or infirm aged and the specially trained people, is about 75 per cent complete.

Sector headquarters have been located but are not equipped and ready for use. Every effort will be made to have them prepared within a week or two. Until then sectors will operate from the Sector Wardens' homes.

The Headquarters Wardens are a group of specially picked men, trained to operate the central warning and report center at the Township Building. They will spread the air raid alarms to the sectors and be prepared to receive reports of air raid incidents and to pass them on to the heads of the various services. They will maintain operations and resources maps at headquarters so that the overall picture at any moment during an attack may be clear to the heads of all services.

Lower Merion is part of Zone No. 1 of Montgomery County. This zone comprises Lower Merion Township and Narberth Borough. Lower Merion's Chief Warden has been appointed Zone Warden. As such, he is in touch with Montgomery County's Chief Warden and Narberth's Chief Warden. Relations with both have been cordial. (Continued On Page Four)

Smith Addressed Legion Auxiliary Says Women Needed In Defense Effort, Warns Against Apathy.

"Women are particularly qualified for morale-building in civilian defense," Dr. Howard Wayne Smith, executive director of the Lower Merion Township Council of Defense, told members of the Auxiliary of Thomas D. Vandiver Post 355, American Legion, Monday afternoon at their regular monthly meeting at the Post Home, Manayunk and State rds., Bala-Cynwyd.

"While the actual business of protection falls more generally to men, there is still much work to be done," Dr. Smith said. "The possibilities of the situation must be viewed realistically and the two extremes of hysteria and apathy be avoided." Calling attention to the attitude the Council has taken in its task, he stressed the planning of work on this realistic basis and outlined various features of coordinating the efforts of volunteer citizens and other volunteer agencies which have responsibilities in defense activities.

Dr. Smith was introduced by Mrs. Robert Morris Town, president of the Auxiliary, who presided at the business meeting. Reporting on Post activities in defense, Mrs. Arthur C. Hawkins, chairman of emergency defense, said that three members are already taking the course in fingerprinting under the auspices of the Township Police Department and three more are ready to volunteer. A covered dish luncheon is to be held by the Auxiliary on March 2, at 12:30 P. M. at the Post Home.

Clarify Rules On Contagious Disease

All Cases Must Be Reported, Even Though Quarantining Not Required

To clear up any confusion concerning the regulations in Lower Merion Township for the reporting of communicable diseases, the Lower Merion Board of Health this week issued to all physicians a copy of Ordinance No. 763, which was passed last month by the Board of Health and by the Township Commissioners.

This ordinance is in addition to the rules and regulations adopted by the State Advisory Health Board for the Control of Communicable Diseases, July 1, 1941.

Special attention is called to the fact that physicians, householders, nurses and teachers must report all communicable diseases, whether or not placarding and quarantining is required and that these reports must be made immediately to the Board of Health of Lower Merion Township, in writing on forms provided by the Board.

It was announced that persons suffering from the following diseases shall be restricted to their own premises for the periods named:

Measles, 10 days from onset of illness; German measles, seven days from onset; whooping cough, four weeks from onset; chickenpox, until all crusts have disappeared; mumps, until swelling can no longer be felt.

Current Affairs at the Main Line Y. M. C. A.

Emory Nelson, Chester, is conducting a series of discussions at the "Y," dealing with problems of friendship and marriage. The series began on Tuesday and will continue for six weeks. At 6:30 Mr. Nelson will meet a group of junior high boys and girls around the supper table and will discuss with them problems of dates and friendship. Junior high students who prefer to come after supper may join the forum at 7 p. m. following the serving of the meal. This series is planned particularly for boys and girls of the 8th and 9th grades and will include the following topics: Feb. 17, "First Dates," Feb. 24, "How to Make a Hit," March 3, "Fresh Dates," and March 10, "Co-ed Code." At 8:30 p. m. on the same evenings Mr. Nelson will repeat his popular forum of two years ago arranged for young people 18 years of age and over. This series deals with courtship and marriage and the following subjects will be discussed: Feb. 17, "Engagement Days," Feb. 24, "Marriage is Important" (Marriage during war); March 3, "Comradeship in Marriage," March 10, "Six Tests of a Happy Home."

A registration fee for the series is asked of all young people sharing this adult forum. Both the high school supper conference and the adult forum are open to Main Line young people regardless of membership in the "Y."

T. David Shihadeh, leader of the "Y" Chorus since September, 1940, has entered Harvard School of Business in special preparation for U. S. Army Service. William Z. Shetter, Upper Darby, has been elected leader of the Chorus.

Mrs. Florence Boutlier, Ardmore, was chosen as the new president; Miss Beatrice Parker, Ardmore, vice-president; August Wagner, Ardmore, secretary-treasurer, and Miss Betty Wagner, Ardmore, librarian. At this week's rehearsal members of the Chorus signed a letter of good wishes to Dave Shihadeh as he accepts his new responsibilities.

The Chorus welcomes each Wednesday evening, young people who enjoy singing both sacred and secular music. About twice a month the Chorus sings for some Main Line audience.

Miss Virginia McGinnes, Wayne, was elected president at the last meeting of the Main Line Business Girls Group. Other officers chosen were first vice president Dottie Hamilton, Ardmore, in charge of program; Kay Giesel, Wayne, in charge of membership; Alberta McDewitt, Bryn Mawr, in charge of services; Josephine Krida, Brookline, secretary, and Natalie Beyer, Merton, treasurer. Miss Vera Grannis, Bryn Mawr, was re-elected advisor and Mrs. Violet Bishop, Ardmore, co-advisor.

In vital communications, as in production, speed is essential to America's war-time effort. Today we must make the telephone equipment we have do more work than ever before.

This means we must SAVE SECONDS. One second saved on each of the 7,000,000 calls we handle daily would save almost 2,000 hours of telephone time daily!

You can help. Please be sure you have the right number before you make a call. Don't ask "Information" for numbers that are listed in your directory. Answer all calls promptly.

An Historical Document

HER FATHER'S SIGNATURE was set on this old charter in 1891. Miss Helen Sharpless, (center, seated) Secretary of the Board of Directors of the Haverford Community Center, Bucks lane, Haverford, examines the charter of incorporation of the Center on which is contained the signature of her father, one of the six founders of the civic organization which started 51 years ago as a Reading Room. With her are Miss Margaret Perkins, class of '42 at Bryn Mawr, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Perkins, Morris ave., Bryn Mawr, who is a volunteer leader at the Community Center, and William Lawrence, 10, 626 Railroad ave., Haverford, a present club member. Miss Sharpless examines the charter in front of a Red Feather banner, symbol of the 1942 United Charities Campaign, which is going on at the moment and will, through its funds, support the Haverford Community Center during the coming year.

Duncombe, of the Bala-Cynwyd Methodist Church, opened a new series at the Bible Hour Supper of the Main Line "Y" dealing with the subject "Knowing the Master." His topics have been "The Man" and "The Book." On February 11, he will discuss "The Land" and on February 18, "The World." This series under the leadership of Mr. Duncombe is open to young men and young women over 18.

On last Wednesday evening a group interested in the formation of a Main Line "Y" photographic club met with Clarence L. Myer, Ardmore photographer, who has offered his services as leader of a group of amateurs interested in taking, developing and enlarging better pictures. This Kamera Klub is part of the co-educational program of the "Y" and is open to young people 18 years of age and over. Young men or women interested in sharing the activities of this club should register at the "Y" immediately.

A delegation from the Main Line "Y" participated in the annual dinner of the North Branch Association at Lehigh and Germantown av. on January 29. Dr. Albert G. Butler, Buffalo, N. Y., was the guest speaker. Those attending from the Main Line included: Dr. Alexander J. Williamson, chairman of the Board; Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Barnes, Miss Dorothy Rowe, Mr. Elmore Kayser, Miss Bea Parker, Miss Doris Cohen and Miss Josephine Krida.

Postmaster Warns Against Chain Letters

An announcement this week from Edgar S. Thompson, postmaster at Upper Darby, states that recently the post office has received several calls about a chain letter racket which is being worked "under the pretense of increasing the sale of Defense Stamps."

Some of these letters, Thompson says, are reported to contain the statement: "This plan has the full approval of the Post Office Department." Thompson states: "This absolutely is not approved by the Post Office Department and the solicitor for the Post Office Department has ruled that notices will be served upon persons participating in such schemes requiring them to show cause why a fraud order should not be issued against them."

Anyone receiving such letters should send them at once to the post master.

Noted Author at "School Night"

Speaker in "America Looks at the War" Series

Waldo Frank, novelist, cultural critic and historian, will address members of School Night's lecture series "America Looks at the War" at the adult school's opening at Lower Merion High School on Monday, February 9. His subject will be "Chart for Rough Waters."

Frank is widely known for his novels and for his books on Latin America. His "America Hispana" is recognized in both North and South America as a standing work on the subject. His "Our America," "A Rediscovery of America" and "A Chart for Rough Waters" have presented critical analyses of the main currents of American life and a challenging discussion of America's role in world affairs.

After a busy registration night last Monday, School Night's thirty-two classes are filling up with Golf, America Looks at the War, Auto Mechanics for Women and Backgrounds of the Future somewhat in the lead. William L. Carey, Registrar of School Night, announces for the benefit of the latecomer, registrations will be handled all this week at the Principal's office at the Lower Merion High School and at Strawberry and Clothier's in Ardmore. He urges that enrollment be made at either of these points in order to avoid congestion of enrolling on the opening night next Monday.

Other courses being offered are: Thirty Centuries of Art, The Bible as History and Literature, Beginners, Intermediate and Advanced Contract Bridge, Country Dance Band, Ballroom Dancing, Old Fashioned Square Dancing, Drawing in Black and White, Dressmaking, Girl Scout Leadership, Everyday Law, Leathercraft, Lip Reading, Marksmanship, How to Listen to Music, Nature Study, Chamber Symphony Orchestra, Painting in Oils and Water Colors, Persuasive Speech, Philosophy, Dark Room Photography, Fundamentals of Public Speaking, Short Story Writing.

Abbott, Costello Ban Extravaganza

Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, Universal's sensational comedians who come Sunday to the Ardmore theatre in their newest Universal laugh-film, "Keep 'Em Flying," refuse to allow their recent-found success to sweep them off their financial feet.

Having zoomed to a front seat among Hollywood's heaviest income earners, what with their salaries from pictures, radio and personal appearances, they are hoarding a goodly share of their fat pay checks against that proverbial rainy day, and investing their surplus cash in Southern California real estate and in U. S. Defense Bonds.

Spirit Is Topic Of Lesson-Sermon

"Spirit" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 8. The Golden Text is: "I have poured out my spirit upon the house of Israel, saith the Lord God" (Ezekiel 39:29).

Among Bible citations comprising the Lesson-Sermon is the following: "But as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him. But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God" (I. Corinthians 2:9,10).

Mr. Harra stressed, with complete cooperation on all counts.

The Air Raid Warden Service of Lower Merion is in constant communication with the local Defense Council through its Executive Director, the Chief Warden reported, and Dr. Smith and his staff have been most helpful in all matters. There have been various contacts with the other Air Raid Precaution Services, he said, suggesting that there appears to the Warden Service to be a need for closer coordination now that each service has progressed in its individual organization.

Mr. Harra pointed out that relations with the Bell Telephone Company have been close and cordial. In the various time tests of telephone communications the work of the operators has been outstanding. During the surprise test during the night hours with only a skeleton force on hand, the service given by the girls was a source of unanimous commendation by all making the test. Many other organizations and individuals, he said, have helped in many matters.

"With due consideration given the time element," he concluded, "the Air Raid Warden Service feels proud of its present status."
